Zoning group ends study of ordinance

By HENRY CANTIN

A Citizens Advisory Committee has completed hearings and study on a proposed new Zoning Ordinance for the City of Romulus, Robert Plank, committee chairman, announced Monday. The committee was formed at the suggestion of City Council President Jimmie Raspberry to assist Romulus Planning Commission and the city council in the drafting of the proposed zoning ordinance which will be the basis for the city's master plan. Recommendations of the 26-member advisory group are to be presented to city council for its approval on Nov. 30, Plank reported.

Metro squad boosted

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has approved expansion of the highly-successful undercover narcotics unit known as the Metro Squad, but rejected a bid to restore six positions to the Sheriff's road patrol.

A $267,295 outlay was approved unanimously Nov. 19. It formally establishes the Metro Squad as a separate unit within the Sheriff's Road Patrol and Investigation Division and expands its staff to 13 members. The Metro Squad has been operating with six officers "borrowed" from other Sheriff's functions.

The appropriation will also permit the purchase of additional specialized equipment for use in communications and surveillance.

The six-man cut was recommended by the County Board of Auditors because Romulus incorporated as a city recently. Under long-standing policy, the Sheriff does not provide routine patrol service in cities.

The Board of Commissioners adopted a resolution along with the County budget Oct. 29, declaring its intention to gradually phase out free road patrol service for local communities.

At its last meeting, the Board of Commissioners established a special committee "for the purpose of reviewing alternative methods towards financing of adequate law enforcement service throughout the county, and ability and willingness of local communities (primarily townships) to finance local

The committee has been conducting public hearings on various phases and aspects of the proposed ordinance with the planning commission since its inception in August of this year.

Following city incorporation for Romulus in May, 1970, the city council approved with revisions and amendments a zoning ordinance enacted in March, 1970 by the old township board.

This new zoning ordinance met with strong disfavor in some areas of the city.

A citizen's group objecting to a multiple zoning classification for a land site at Middlebelt and Van Born Rds., an area near their homes, initiated a referendum vote drive to kill the ordinance.

In a special referendum election held on Aug. 4 of this year, voters rejected the amended ordinance by a vote of 1,254 to 633 voting for approval.

Of the city's registration of 8,390, only 2,622 persons went to the polls to vote on the referendum and nominate candidates for state and county federal offices.

Following the defeat of the ordinance, members of the city council immediately called a public hearing for Aug. 6. More than 30 area residents, plus businessmen and government officials were in attendance.

Prior to the public hearing, council approved an Emergency Resolution with immediate effect that the city use the old Township Zoning Ordinance which was based on the old Township Planning Act pending adoption of new ordinance.

The Citizens Advisory Committee, along with its various recommendations for area zoning and classifications, also recommended a much stronger enforcement of city ordinances relating to building codes and an updating of the Building Officials Conference of America (BOCA) building codes now being used by the city.

Prescott, Romulus, second runner-up; Miss Patricia Bell (standing), 17, of 5898 Dexter, Romulus, third runner-up; and Miss Kathleen Hood, 17, of 13502 Aston, Romulus, first runner-up. Some 200 persons attended the Junior Miss Pageant held under the sponsorship of the Romulus Jaycees.

Karen Nichols named 1970 Junior Miss

A 17-year-old senior at Huron Senior High School has been selected and crowned Romulus' 1970 Junior Miss. She is Miss Karen Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols, 29151 Van Horn Rd., New Boston.

Karen won 15 other contestants entered this year in the 1970 Junior Miss Pageant held at the Romulus Senior High School's auditorium under the sponsorship of the Romulus Jaycees.

The three runners-up were Miss Kathleen Hood, 18, daughter of Mrs. Sadie L. Hood Boone, 13502 Aston, Romulus; Miss Nancy Tillotson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tillotson, 34900 Prescott, Romulus, and Miss Patricia Bell, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bell, 5898 Dexter, Romulus.

More than 200 persons attended the pageant, held this year under the chairmanship of Leonard J. Folmar. The number of girls vying for the Junior Miss title was the largest in the history of the pageant, it was stated.

Offices closed

The Huron Township Offices will be closed on Nov. 26 and Nov. 27, in the observance of the Thanksgiving Holiday.

The new Junior Miss is a member of the Future Teachers of America, Bachelor Club, Cheerleader and Pep Club at Huron High School.

In winning the Junior Miss title, Karen will receive a scholarship to Eastern Michigan University and other prizes.

The runner-ups were also presented with prizes.

The contest judges were Mrs. Kathy Detloff, Mrs. Marquerite Olds and Al Izes.

The master of ceremonies for the evening was Mickey Reel. The Romulus High School Band presented the pageant's musical selections.

THE CROWNING — Winner of the 1970 Romulus Junior Miss Pageant was Karen Nichols, 17, Huron High School senior. Karen was selected from among 16 contestants last Saturday night at the Junior Miss Pageant held at Romulus Senior High School. She is receiving her crown from Miss Linda Baston, a former Junior Miss.

Suspect arrested in double slaying

The murder of two Romulus women has led to the arrest of 66-year-old ex-convict, Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol detective division reported.

Accused of the double murder is Leroy B. Covington, 66, of 6312 Howe, Romulus.

He is being held at the Wayne County Jail without bond pending an examination into the murder charges scheduled for today (Wednesday).

The two women found slain in Romulus were Mrs. Betty Irene Cummings, 57, of 6312 Howe and Doris Jean McCarter, 22, of 24278 Beverly Rd. They were found in a car on Henry Ruff Rd., one-eighth of a mile west of Merriman Rd., at 5:45 p.m., Monday, Nov. 17.

An 8-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cummings was also found in the car. She was unharmed.

The combined efforts of Wayne County Sheriff's detective division and Romulus police led to the arrest of Covington at the Wayne Rd. exit on westbound I-94 Expressway after police officers spotted a car he was driving.

The cause of death was listed as a small caliber gun shot wound to the left temple

FLORA L. MORRIS

Flora Morris, longtime area resident dies

The Romulus community lost a longtime resident with the passing of Flora L. Morris, 13880 Huron River Dr. last week.

Mrs. Morris suffered a stroke early the morning of Nov. 5 and was rushed by ambulance to Wayne County General Hospital where she died Nov. 16.

She was born Feb. 19, 1894 to Baldwin and Eliza Hasselbach, late residents of Richmond and New Boston.

The deceased moved to the Huron River Dr. address in 1914 as the young bride of the late Ray V. Morris, lifetime Romulus farmer, who passed away in 1942 after suffering a broken back in a farm accident.

Mrs. Morris was interested in education all her life and was an active backer when Romulus District No. 1 first contemplated building its initial high school in 1923.

She was also an avid traveler, a trip to the Holy Land being the most outstanding of several trips she took.

She leaves three children, all of whom also reside in Romulus. They are Carl W. Morris, member of Wayne County Intermediate School District and Romulus Board of Education and former partner and president of Huron Valley Oil Company; Pearl M. Morris, Romulus reporter for the Associated Newspapers and local piano teacher, and Helen Estelle (Mrs. Frederick) Hay, housewife and mother and local 4-H leader.

A third daughter, Marion L. Diepenhorst preceded her in death in 1962. A son, Charles Robert, died in infancy.

She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Milla (Jack) Finn of Ypsilanti; 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted last Friday from the Roberts Bros. Funeral Home in Belleville. Rev. Robert Hudgins former Methodist pastor in Romulus, officiated. Interment was in the Romulus Cemetery beside her late husband.

Mrs. Morris was a life member of the Michigan Railroad Club.

Permit issued for industry

A building permit for the construction of the foundation for a new brick and block industrial building in Romulus was issued by the Romulus Building Department.

The permit was issued to the Webster Builders Inc., of 28600 Southfield Rd., Lathrup Village. Construction cost was estimated at $17,500.

The industrial structure is being built for TESCO (transportation equipment services) of 2547 Monroe Ave., Dearborn.

Reader: Reach out' to cure loneliness

(Editor's Note: The following was submitted by Sheila Prescott, 19, patient in Woody's Rest Home of Romulus.)

LONELINESS

If I am lonely, I wonder how many other people are lonely in this world. People confined in a nursing home, face an uncertain future, and finally death. People dream about things they don't have. People laugh and look happy, but the ache will not go away. They are people who live on memories.

These are the lonely people.

How many people are lonely? Loneliness darkens the lives of millions of people -- People who belong to no one and no one belongs to them.

When you have no friends to talk to, when you have forgotten how to pray, when you lose trust in everyone, and finally in yourself -- this is loneliness. You reach out and the hunger of your soul find nothing to cling to, this is loneliness.

Is there a cure?
Faith in God is the best revenge against loneliness. Make life a little less lonely by caring. When you care for someone, you help both of you.

Bazaar of Values winners named

Two Belleville residents are the winners of $10 each in the "Bazaar of Values", sponsored by area merchants and the Enterprise-Roman.

A total of $200 will be given away to shoppers who patronize merchants participating in the "Bazaar of Values".

The first winner is Helen Wiertella, of 679 Graylock, Belleville, who made her purchase at Gamble's. R. Hoagland, of 951 Savage, Belleville, made his winning purchase at Foodville.

To enter, just write your name, address and phone number on any sales slip, cash register tape, charge slip receipt or other business form from any business displaying the "Bazaar of Values" posters or advertising in the "Bazaar of Values" section of this issue.

Bring or mail these entries to The Enterprise - Roman office, 330 Main St., Belleville. Each week a ticket will be drawn. All entries stay in the Enterprise-Roman's "Bazaar of Values" prize box the entire eight weeks.

You have a chance to win each week. You may deposit as many entries as you wish. The more entries you make, the better chance you have of winning.

In coming weeks, the prizes will be increased from $10 to $20 and, in the eighth week, to $100.

Belleville players await Christmas

The Belleville High School Orchestra has successfully completed a part of its full 1970-71 calendar of activities and events. Mrs. Helen Joseph, orchestra director, announced.

The annual candy sale, which was recently completed, has provided a part of the funds needed for orchestra member scholarships to summer music camps.

The orchestra opened this year's concert with the half-hour program before the first Belleville Kiwanis Travelogue held Nov. 5.

On Nov. 10, the orchestra, accompanied by a few Belleville High School Choir members and the ninth grade string students from the North Junior High School, attended a concert of descriptive music performed by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the Ford Auditorium in Detroit.

The orchestra, with the band and choir, participated last week in the Annual Sub-8 Music Festival.

This concert was one of the "best ever" performed by this massed group of young musicians. The community of the Van Buren Public Schools can be very proud of its music department teachers and students, Mrs. Joseph reported.

The weeks before Christmas vacation are filled with plans and rehearsals for Christmas concerts and assemblies.

On Dec. 10, the orchestra will perform at the National Honor Society Assembly. On Dec. 15, the annual Christmas music assemblies will be held at the high school.

The final performance will include the bands and choirs

GOODWILL COMMITTEE — The New Boston Rotary Club has appointed a Goodwill Committee to review a list of families who are in need of Goodfellows' assistance. The members of the committee (from left) are Chairman Charles Larabell, Gene Rakotz, Rotary president; Edmund Zakersky and Luke Wegienka.

New Boston Rotary plans basket recipients

The Board of Directors of the New Boston Rotary Club appointed a Goodwill Committee at a recent club meeting.

The committee will review a list of families who are in need of Goodfellow Christmas baskets. The committee chairman, Charles Larabell, has Rotary Club President Gene Rakotz, Edmund Zakersky and Luke Wegienka, Rotarians, to assist him on committee programs.

The directors also set Wednesday, Dec. 9, as the date in which the Huron varsity football team with its coaches, will be guests at the club's annual football banquet. Ralph Dugan and Elwood Kryski have been appointed co-chairmen of the event.

The families of the football players will also be invited to join the team. However, they will be asked to purchase their own banquet tickets.

President Rakotz and Harvey Carey recently returned from a two-week hunting trip from out west. They will present a program along with slides of their experiences encountered while on the hunting trip. The program will be given on Dec. 1.

The Rotary Club will present several local business owners with a letter of commendation for their conscientious effort in making New Boston a progressive looking town. Many have made improvements in their places of business.

The club, it was stated, appreciates the extra effort put forth by club members and others in the appearance of their establishments.

The club also announced that a Christmas party is being planned by members, who will again assist the New Boston Jaycees in decorating New Boston with Christmas attire.

Club selects officers

The Galloping Comedians 4-H Club held their November meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curry in Belleville.

Officers were elected at the meeting, on the agenda and those include President Susan Simon, Vice President, Roy Bland, Secretary, Karen Rooks, Treasurer, Debbie Caudle, and our Sergeant-at-Arms Mac Milton and Kenny Smith.

William Younglove, 4-H youth agent, is proposing a 4-H Youth Council. Several members expressed a desire to be a part of the council.

Certificates and pins were passed out by Curry.

The Christmas party was set for Dec. 15. Plans are in the hands of chairmen. Marla Milton and Ardyth Curry.

Adult leaders present were Mrs. Marlow Milton Mrs. William Rooks, Mrs. Eileen Kuchta, Paul Ostrowski, Mrs. James Bishop, Mrs. Judy Norris, Mrs. Edward Caudle and Mrs. Frank Wackus. New members are Daniel Gregg and Debbie Gregg and Pamela Bishop.

Pack slates paper drive

Cub Scout Pack 1071 will be collecting papers in the Belleville area on Saturday, Dec. 12.

Anyone with papers to donate is asked to call 697-0234 for pickups. Richard Tommorrow announced.

VFW Auxiliary 5061 concerned about POW

The crusade to obtain freedom and humane treatment for American servicemen held prisoners in Southeast Asia by Communist forces will be continued by V.F.W. Auxiliary to Post 5061 of Sumpter Township, President Mrs. Etta Michaels announced Monday.

Mrs. Michaels said a massive letter writing campaign to the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris Peace Talks was being launched by the V.F.W. "All Americans are invited to join in this vital project," she said. "Our men are being subjected to barbaric physical and mental subjugation and we firmly believe that if our country shows it is united over this issue this inhumane treatment will stop and they will be released."

The letters are to be addressed to Xuan Thuy; Delegation of the Democratic Republic Vietnam 8, Avenue General Leclerc; 94 Choisey-le-Roi; Paris, France.

Thuy is chief negotiator for North Vietnam, Mrs. Michaels explained. Cost of postage is 2 cents and the letters should contain the following points:

1 — The names of all Americans held (prisoners of war and missing in action) be released.
2 — The return home of all prisoners starting immediately with the sick and disabled.

3 — Humane treatment of all held.

The Post and its Ladies Auxiliary recently circulated petitions urging freedom and humane treatment for American POW held by the North Vietnamese, Viet Cong and other Communists in Southeast Asia.

"More than 2 million signatures were gathered by V.F.W. members throughout the United States," Mrs. Michaels reported. "V.F.W. Commander-in-Chief Herbert R. Rainwater personally sought to deliver them to the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris but they callously refused to see him or to even receive the petitions.

"This rebuff will not halt us," Mrs. Michaels said. "Commander-in-Chief Rainwater firmly believes that a show of concern — that Americans are united over the wellbeing of our POWs — will result in better treatment and eventual freedom for these men."

Scouts slate paper drive

The Boy Scouts of Troop 793 of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville will hold a paper drive Saturday, Dec. 5. Trucks will be behind the church, located on W. Columbia Ave., from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Cardiovascular diseases annually kill some 250,000 persons, under 65, and most of them by far are breadwinners, says the Michigan Heart Association, a Michigan United Fund agency.

Two teens held in shooting

A 17-year-old and a 15-year-old, both residents of Dearborn Heights, have been arrested by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol officers in the shotgun shooting of a Romulus man.

Taken into custody by sheriff's detectives were Gary Lynn Mulkey, 17, of 4711 Mayfair, and his juvenile companion.

They are accused of shooting Anthony M. Rhode, 19, of 28109 Goddard Rd., Romulus.

Rhode is presently in a serious condition in Wayne County General Hospital. He had been shot in the back at the base of the spine.

The shooting allegedly occurred in a field in the vicinity of Goddard and Wick Rds. Rhode managed to get into his car and drive home. His father called Wayne County Sheriff's deputies. An ambulance rushed Rhode to the hospital.

According to the police report, Rhode implicated the two in the shooting. Mulkey was arrested first, and the juvenile later, by Dearborn Heights police. Romulus police assisted in the investigation.

Police are investigating a report that the shooting followed an alleged argument between Rhode and the two in custody about Rhode testifying against the two in another police case.

The investigation and the arrested youths were turned over to the Taylor police as the shooting occurred in their jurisdiction.

Civil Air Patrol unit to celebrate 29 years

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) will observe its 29th anniversary on Dec. 1.

Local CAP units will join nearly 2,300 others throughout the country in observing the anniversary of the founding of the humanitarian organization in 1941.

Among the local units preparing anniversary celebrations is the Metropolitan Emergency Service Senior Squadron of CAP headed by First Lieutenant Edward L. Dezomitz.

This unit's headquarters is 11364 Inkster Rd. It meets and trains at the Ford hanger at Metro Airport every fourth Sunday of each month. Meetings start at 1:30 p.m.

The unit at present has 20 volunteer members and pilots. Group Commander is Capt. Dave Mock, and Wing Commander of state CAP is Lt. Col. Charles A. Klamm.

"We are a search and rescue squadron. We assist in the search and rescue of missing planes, children, people and render emergency services in national disasters, as well as city, county and state ones," Lt. Dezomitz said.

The Civil Air Patrol was founded by a band of patriotic, aviation-minded individuals who volunteered their services and privately-owned aircraft to assist America's defense.

The CAP has agreements with Civil Defense agencies in

AT VICTORY DINNER — Romulus resident Mrs. Carl K. Rush was joined at the speaker's table for the 1970 Torch Drive victory dinner by campaign promotion chairman John J. Morrissey, director of advertising and sales promotion for Ford Marketing Corp., a subsidiary of Ford Motor Co. Mrs. Rush served as chairman of the drive's west residential unit which reported collections totaling $176,404 or 100.1 percent of quota. The Torch Drive overall total was $30,409,675 Benefiting will be nearly 200 health and community services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

For emergency use

Hospitals will get two-way radio systems

The installation of a two-way emergency radio system in the four hospitals of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority is expected to be completed within the next four months, reports Dr. Karl S. Klicka, PCHA's executive director.

"This system has been in operation at our Beyer Hospital for several months and now we are adding it to the facilities at Annapolis, Outer Drive and Seaway units," said Dr. Klicka.

Also, in the event of a catastrophic accident or fire this system will enable area hospitals and ambulance firms to better coordinate and expedite their emergency operation."

It is expected that the PCHA emergency radio system will eventually be part of an area-wide and state-wide communication set up. This hospital radio network plan is now being implemented.

Bake sale nets $30 for group

A bake sale, held by the Romulus Junior High Non-Pollution Club, netted approximately $30 for the group's treasury announced parent advisor, Mrs. June Blanton.

The sale was held on Friday, Nov. 13 at the Manufacturers National Bank, Romulus. Baked goods were prepared by the youngsters in the home economics room at the Junior High or were donated by parents.

The club was organized through the efforts of Social Science and Current Events teacher Mrs. Emily Thomas, who is faculty advisor for the group.

Projects under consideration are purchases of buttons, decals and flags encouraging concern about the environment.

Discussions about purchasing trees to donate to the city are also being held, said Mrs. Blanton.

of both women, police reported.

In the car when Covington was arrested were a small pistol and a deer rifle, both loaded, police reported.

Det. Henry Harington of the sheriff's department spotted the car wanted in connection with the double murder in the Beverly-Wayne Rd. areas at approximately 8:45 a.m., last Friday. Other police cars converged in the area.

The car went east on Beverly Rd. to Merriman Rd. then south on Merriman Rd. to the 1-94 Expressway.

Other police cars, including a Romulus police patrol, stopped the car being driven by Covington at the Wayne Rd. exit on the westbound land of the expressway.

Police quoted Covington as saying that he spent most of his life in various prisons.

Police detectives reported that Covington married Mrs. Cummings in East St. Louis while he was serving time in prison. She remarried after a divorce.

Covington was residing with his ex-wife prior to the shooting, police say.

Honors band will meet Wednesday

A newly organized elementary school honors band is meeting every Wednesday between 4 and 5 p.m. at the Romulus Junior High School. Mrs. Sue Scofield, instrumental music instructor, announced.

Outstanding players from the fifth and sixth grades of all elementary schools in the district make up the 60-member band, said Mrs. Scofield.

The band was organized this year through the cooperation of the schools and the Romulus Recreation Commission, which is helping out with the sheet music expenses.

Following the Christmas holidays the band will give concerts at all the elementary schools and has plans for a public spring concert.

Recently the group attended a Saturday rehearsal of the University of Michigan Marching Band, accompanied by parents who provided the transportation.

Mrs. Scofield is teaching her second year in the Romulus schools.

Thanksgiving: time to cherish good things

This is a time when it seems that most human energies are devoted to kicking or complaining. It is therefore doubly satisfying to welcome, once again, that good old traditional holiday—Thanksgiving.

Giving thanks on the fourth Thursday in November always conjures up a picture of the Pilgrims and other early settlers and the legendary hardships they faced in the wilderness of North America.

It is well to remember that North America in the early 1600s was not the United States, and the people who came here then knew only that they were in a hostile wilderness. With this same historical experience, our Canadian neighbors to the north also observe Thanksgiving Day, although their day of thanks in the second Monday in October.

At any rate, Thanksgiving is a day when the kickers and complainers should make themselves scarce while we take in this great land we now call the United States.

We have material blessings in abundance for which we should duly give thanks. But our greatest blessings are beyond measuring on the scales of monetary values. Some of these are religious and political liberties, the right to our day in court, the sanctity of homes, persons and property.

Many of the complainers hold these things in low esteem, perhaps because they take them for granted or are too poor in spirit to appreciate them.

Thanksgiving, however, is a day that helps to enrich the lives of everyone, and there is nothing like an old-fashioned Thanksgiving turkey to stimulate appreciation of the good things that we are privileged to enjoy.

Thanksgiving Prayer

We give thanks that 35 decades ago the Pilgrims landed in the new world.

We give thanks that they persevered and established principles of liberty and opportunity which formed the basis of our society.

We give thanks that they solved the monumental problems of their day in what must have seemed a cruel and hostile land.

We give thanks that they saw their problems, not as barriers, but as opportunities to build a better life for themselves and for future generations.

We pray that we of this generation will have as great courage and resourcefulness as our Pilgrim forefathers to solve the problems of today.

New bills would help preserve lands

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative 38th District

Two bills aimed at preserving some of Michigan's most attractive scenery won final approval in the November session of the legislature. One of them protects the state's scenic rivers, the other Michigan's Great Lakes shoreline.

They are two of a series of environmental quality bills that passed the legislature this year.

Both the rivers and shoreline bills, which have now been sent to the Governor for his signature, are designed to prevent unwanted commercial exploitation of the state's beauty spots.

Under the scenic rivers bill, the Department of Natural Resources will be able to specify certain rivers as scenic areas and then establish zoning to protect and preserve them.

The version of the bill passed in November was a compromise of a measure which had earlier passed the House. The House version would have allowed the Natural Resources Commission to set zoning regulations 400 feet back from the river shoreline on designated scenic rivers.

The Senate struck out this zoning power, leaving the commission with only authority to specify the scenic areas and to encourage their preservation.

The final compromise reached by a House-Senate conference committee on the bill permits the commission to recommend protective zoning regulations which would then be subject to public hearings and put into effect by the involved local unit of government. However, if the local government fails to act within one year, the state could move in and set its own rules.

Also included in the compromise version is a provision which gives property owners or potential land developers the right to appeal any zoning restriction imposed by either the state or the local government.

The compromise was approved by the House by a 73 to 9 vote and in the Senate by a vote of 28 to 5.

Speaking of schools

Each child is treated differently

Every parent knows each of their children is different.

In every classroom each child is different, too. For most, the difference is not great. For some, it is. These children need special help and attention.

The object is to help every child get the most out of the school experience, to take a place in an adult world, to reach his potential.

The school psychological diagnostician—Michigan's term for school psychologist—is the person who must certify that a child needs this extra measure of help. He does this by giving a test or series of tests which ask and try to answer several questions:

What is this child's general level of ability? What are his strengths, his weaknesses, in reading, in math? What has he already learned: Is he able to make sense out of what he sees and hears and is he able to control his movements?

From these tests, a description of a child emerges. From this, it is often clear what special needs the child has. When those needs fit the program for the mentally handicapped—the Type A Program—the diagnostician recommends the child have that program.

He keeps in touch with the child's teacher and learns of the child's progress. Often he talks with the parents about various problems and offers suggestions.

When time allows, he may become involved in diagnosing other learning problems of children with average or above average intelligence. There are so many children who could be getting much more out of school, if we only knew what was going wrong with the learning process and how to change the schools to deal with it.

While the diagnostician may deal with a wide range of situations, his primary task is to find those children who need this special program and see that they have the best we can offer to help with their needs.

We have much to be thankful for

By HENRY CANTIN

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day. In the United States and Canada, Thanksgiving Day is a day set aside for the giving of thanks with feasting and prayer for the many blessings received during the year.

We here at home and people throughout America have much to be thankful for.

Our religious freedom, our advances in technology, our achievements in space and our constant efforts to improve our relations with one another are just a few of the important things that warrant our sincere thanks and prayers.

The first Thanksgiving days were harvest festivals, or days for thanking God for plentiful crops. For this reason the holiday still takes place in the fall, after the crops have been gathered.

In the United States, Thanksgiving is usually a family day, celebrated with big dinners and joyous reunions. Many persons traveled hundreds of miles to spend the day with their parents. Thanksgiving is also a time for serious religious thinking, church services and personal prayer.

The first American Thanksgiving was celebrated during the second winter the Plymouth colonists spent in the New World. The first dreadful winter in Massachusetts had nearly killed half the members of the colony. But new hope grew up in the summer of 1621.

The records of Thanksgiving relate that the corn harvest of 1621 brought rejoicing. Gov. William Bradford decreed that Dec. 13, 1621, be set aside as a day of feasting and prayer, to show gratitude of the colonists that they were still alive.

The women of the colony spent many days preparing for the feast. Foods were boiled and baked and roasted. The children were kept busy turning roasts on spits, or rods, in front of open fires.

More than 80 friendly Indians came to the feast. The Indians brought wild turkeys and venison as their share. The tables were set outdoors, and all the people sat around them like one large family.

Prayers, sermons, and songs of praise were important in the celebration. Three days were spent in feasting and prayer. Then the Indians returned to their forest and the colonists to their tasks.

The custom of Thanksgiving Day spread from Plymouth to other New England colonies and finally to all of the United States.

Thanksgiving Day has in recent years, signaled the start of preparation for the Christmas holidays. A season of merriment and gift presentation to our loved ones and friends.

In this connection it has come to our attention that servicemen have expressed a desire for more personalized Christmas gifts this year.

The American Red Cross workers stationed at military installations throughout the world report that tape recordings made by family, friends and neighbors are at the top of men's Christmas lists.

No matter what, be sure to remember them this Christmas.

Unemployment rate reflected in club

The rising unemployment rate among executives is being reflected by membership in the Forty Plus Club of New York, where men who not long ago made between $15,000 and $100,000 a year help each other find work.

"They've been pouring in here recently," said one member, a commuter from Westchester County who has a big housing bill to meet and six youngsters under 10 to support. Median age is 53, median income about $25,000.

Membership is now up to 180, compared with 90 a year ago, and rising applications indicate that eight to 10 will be added to the rolls each week for at least the remainder of the year.

Activity also is picking up in some of the other Forty Plus Clubs in Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, Los Angeles, and San Francisco-Oakland.

In Manhattan, each member must make a $100 contribution if he is accepted and then work 2½ days a week in the club's drab office, where coats are hung together on a long rack and attache cases are lined against the wall.

Not one of the club members has a steady, income-producing job, but there isn't a loafer among them. The typewriters and telephones are busier than in most offices as members rewrite resumes and process job opportunities.

When a member finds a job, and thereby evicts himself, a big brass bell is struck and those not yet so fortunate send up a cheer. One man made it in 18 minutes; most wait months. The average of "outgoings" is six to eight a week.

Times are poor in job markets today, especially when a man reaches 40 and suddenly must seek employment for the first time. The executive veneer sometimes cracks, and most members concede they are bewildered and lonely.

Nearly 50 per cent have never been out of work before and many never thought they would be. They are shocked not only at losing income, but group life and health insurance, pensions, stock options and other fringe benefits.

Many of these men believed they had arrived, and most lived in a style that befitted their image of what an executive should be. Many are pillars of their communities—vestrymen, PTA participants, Boy Scout leaders.

Some now must withdraw their children from private schools. Often the wife has to go out to work. Forced sales of homes, though not common, do occur as members seek to raise survival money.

"Resignation from the country club is the last thing they do," said George Klein, whose specialty when working in manufacturing methods, but whose post in the club is as an aide to James Wilson, president, also jobless.

Klein spoke somewhat facetiously but not altogether so. He recalls that one member decided to get in a final round of golf before resigning from his country club. By the end of the day he had accepted a job from a new member.

"The rule here is that there are no rules," says Klein. "You look for the breaks."

You'd hardly believe him if you viewed the operation, where men who have had the bad luck to lose their jobs seldom trust to luck to get another. Instead, they work efficiently, quietly, systematically.

One group interviews new applicants. Another checks credentials and references. Counseling is always in progress. And the marketing committee is always busy trying to sell men to a constantly updated list of 3,000 companies.

They use the telephones too, but everyone understands that the system orders members never to dial the middle phone of the three along the wall. It's kept open for incoming job calls.

Would you have accepted letter?

To the Editor:

The following letter is the one referred to last week and that our school superintendent, Byron K. Antcliff, refused to accept. This letter was also refused by school officials in Kalamazoo.

The source of the letter in Kalamazoo was the John Birch Society's MOTOREDE committee. We don't know the exact source here except it was presented by the Huron Township Citizens Committee to the school board. And board members Palmer, Hartsuff and Bennett mention this letter in their charges against Antcliff. The "letter" is as follows:

NOTICE TO:
PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOL
SUPERINTENDENT AND TEACHERS

You are hereby notified that is not allowed by the undersigned to participate in, or be subject to instruction in, any training or education in sex and or sexual attitudes, human and animal reproductive biological development, attitude development, introspective examination of social and cultural aspects of family life, or group therapy or self criticism, or any combination thereof, without the consent of the undersigned by express written permission.

The prohibition asserted hereby includes, but is not limited to, any exposure to the above kinds of education or training, whether by visual or audible communication, and whether or not by group therapy or activity, television, radio, slides, moving pictures, books, magazines, newspapers or any printed publications what-so-ever, sound reproduction, speeches, discussion leader, public official or any other form of communication.

If removal of this child is necessary to meet the above requirement any damage to the child-emotional or otherwise caused by this separation shall be deemed to be the responsibility of the parties to whom this notice is sent.

Be it further understood that this action is taken in accord with Public Act No. 44 of 1968, Senate Bill No. 925, Section 789c. This notice and the contents hereof are to be effective until revoked in writing by the undersigned.

For example, if this "letter" had been accepted, a teacher could not say: "Why did you do that, Johnny?" (self-criticism); or "Don't cry Sally, it will be all right." (emotional development); etc., etc... Teachers couldn't have a pair of guppies or hamsters. These things may seem a little extreme but so are the people pushing this "letter".

Section 789c referred to in this "letter" says: "Any student upon the written request of parent or guardian shall be excused from attending classes in which the subject of sex education is under discussion and no penalties as to credits of graduation shall result therefrom."

As you can see this "letter" goes way beyond the law. Yes, our school superintendent refused to accept this "letter." Thank goodness. So would we, wouldn't you??

PEOPLE FOR HURON

Residents 'touched'

To the Editor:

We in Romulus area have been "touched" by a wonderful person, the late Flora Morris.

She gave life's most precious commodity her time, herself. Always a cheerful smile, "hello" and deep concern. Thus an experience both young and old beheld her presence.

This was her legacy to us. So why don't we make it a lasting memorial, by taking time to give of ourselves as she has done. Say "hello" and to those you meet and see regardless—"touch them"—and the memory will linger on.

Spaghetti dinner planned

The Denton Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) has finalized plans for its upcoming spaghetti dinner. The dinner will be held Thursday, Dec. 3, from 5:30 p.m. until the pot runs dry.

The cost of the dinner was set at $1.25 per plate for adults and 75 cents per plate for children under 12. The menu for the evening will be spaghetti, salad, a roll and ice cream.

At a recent meeting, the executive board of the PTO also discussed finalization of the Thanksgiving Basket drive, school pictures for next year and establishing an account with the National Bank of Detroit.

The executive board also drafted a letter to Russell Harrison, director of traffic and safety for the Wayne County Road Commission, in regards to a study to determine the need for a stop light at the corner of Denton Rd. and U.S. 12.

Mrs. Barbara Russell announced that she must resign as PTO secretary because they are moving. The PTO regretfully accepted her resignation and appointed Mrs. Mary Murrel, fifth grade teacher, as the new secretary. Principal William S. Chizmar reported, "All in all, it was a very worthwhile and beneficial meeting."

Our men in service

Navy Fireman Larry M. Lixey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Lixey of 16332 Inkster Rd., Romulus, was part of the team that assisted the U.S. Forestry Service in fighting the worst fire in California's history.

An average of 32 men and 25 pieces of equipment from the San Diego-based Amphibious Construction Battalion One were maintained in the Mount Laguna and Boulder Creek areas during the devastating blaze's life.

Bravery in the face of danger was universal on the fire front and members of the battalion exhibited this quality to an outstanding degree.

Ethiopian serving as school consultant

International educator Mulugeta Eteffa, currently serving Wayne County's 37 school districts until June 1971, has completed an outline featuring up-to-the minute information on Ethiopia's economy, educational practices, and history.

The outline on Ethiopia is only one of the many services being offered by Eteffa during his stay with Wayne County the Intermediate School District as an international education consultant.

During the September-October period, Eteffa's consultant activities have provided educational experiences in more than twenty of the county's 37 school districts.

Even though Mulu's schedule is almost booked solid for the coming winter months, he is still interested in:

—Working out a curriculum on Ethiopia and East Africa for elementary and secondary schools;

—preparing new materials for use in the classroom;

—developing new units of study;

—leading discussions on Ethiopia and Africa;

—talking to small and large civic-community groups about Ethiopia.

Eteffa may be contacted through the Wayne County Intermediate School District, 1500 Kales Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226; telephone 224-2950.

protection, either by establishment of their own police departments or by contract with the Sheriff."

The committee will consist of two commissioners plus representatives of the Board of Auditors, Sheriff, Prosecuting Attorney and the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. Its recommendations are to be submitted within six months.

Commissioners opposed to the impending manpower cut argued it would weaken the Sheriff's position in negotiating contracts with local communities.

Those who voted with the majority argued that rescinding the cut would lead local communities to believe the Board did not seriously intend to phase out free local patrol service.

Among other actions, the Commissioners approved the outlay of up to $40,000 to continue the Wayne County economic opportunity program for one month beyond the Nov. 30 effective date of a Federal funding cut-off.

This will "buy time" while members of the Board of Commissioners and congressmen from Wayne County are trying to have the decision to drop the program overruled in Washington.

The decision not to renew the $776,000 Federal grant for the County's fiscal year starting Dec. 1 was made by Wendell Verduin, director of the regional Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Chicago.

A meeting with national OEO Director Donald Rumsfeld in Washington is being sought.

If the effort fails, neighborhood action centers in eight cities and townships will be closed and 90 employees, 56 of whom were recruited from the poor, will be out of jobs. The centers are located in Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, River Rouge, Romulus, Sumpter and Taylor.

Advised that it was legally required, the Board also approved payment of $19,018 in back salary for Sgt. Paul N. Paciorek, who was acquitted in court of charges resulting from alleged traffic ticket irregularities in the Sheriff's Road Patrol in 1965.

Paciorek was reinstated in his job by the Civil Service Commission after being acquitted. The back pay covers the period Aug. 21, 1965 through Nov. 2, 1969.

Church will sell bonds

The Dunn Road Church of God in Christ, located in Sumpter Township has reported completion of phase one for its new church construction.

Phase one concerns the financing of the new church. This is to be done through the selling of church bonds at eight per cent interest in denominations of $100, $250 and $500.

The bond maturities are from six months through 14 and a half years at six month intervals.

The selling of the bonds will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 29 and continue through the evening. If there are any bonds left they are to be sold from 6 to 9 p.m. on the following Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

The selling of the bonds will be supervised by J.W. Housefield of the Fidelity Plan, Inc.

Pastor Elder G. Paylor, and Assistant Elder Richard Paylor and the congregation is inviting friends, well-wishers and those interested in a sound investment to come to the meetings which will be at the church's present location 44730 Dunn Rd.

If more information is needed or someone would like to give a donation for the new church, please contact Elder Richard Paylor at 25166 Karr Rd. Belleville, Michigan 48111, or the church secretary at 461-1001.

VFW ball set Saturday

The Romulus Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post No. 9568 is sponsoring a "Hunters Ball" at 8 p.m. Saturday at the VFW Hall, 39270 Huron River Dr. Music will be by the Huron Valley Boys.

The ball will feature a special floor show by Paula—Paula from New York. Refreshments and drinks also will be available.

Tickets will be sold at the door and are now on sale in the club room. Tickets are $7.50 per couple or $4 stage.

The proceeds will be used to help support the VFW's Children's Christmas Party.

Building stones taken from quarries are limestones, sandstones, granites, marbles, and slates.

Romulus mail will go through city post office

M. P. O'Donnell, director of Post Office Delivery Services Division, has announced that on Saturday, Nov. 28, those parts of Romulus now served by the Wayne, Inkster, and Belleville Post Offices will be reassigned to be delivered by the Romulus Post Office.

This change is in accordance with the promise made by the Post Office Department that the Romulus Postal boundaries would include this territory when incorporation was established.

Plans for this change were started the day following the election, which made Romulus a city. Plans were finalized on Monday, Nov. 16, with Saturday, Nov. 28, set for the physical change.

It should be noted that the patrons in this area will continue to be served by the same carrier, operating the same vehicle and arriving at the normal time. The only change being their service will now be out of the Romulus Post Office.

The post offices involved will see that change of addresses are made for all periodicals, newspapers, and utilities.

Any mail that is addressed to either of the former post offices will be sent to the Romulus Post Office for delivery.

In fact, an additional temporary Star Route has been established between the four post offices so that delivery of this mail can be performed without any delay.

This extra service will be provided for some weeks, thereby giving everyone time to notify their friends that their post office is now Romulus, Michigan, 48174.

Postmaster George Austin and employees of the Romulus Post Office welcome these Romulus citizens and express the desire to serve them to the utmost of their ability.

The Romulus Post Office is located at 11189 Shook, corner of Bibbins. The telephone number is 941-2345. Business hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and Saturday 8 a.m. to noon.

Again the Postmaster and employees invite all its patrons, and especially the new ones, to stop by their Post Office and get acquainted.

Mrs. Rush elected to Citizen Assembly

Mrs. Carleton Rush, 29620 King Rd., Romulus was elected last week to the board of directors and Citizen Assembly of the newly restructured United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit (UCS).

Other citizen leaders from the western Wayne area elected to the UCS Board are: Charles E. Barnett, educational consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District; and Mrs. John Yori of Garden City.

The creation of the UCS Citizen Assembly and, from its ranks, the election of the new board and officers this week, culminated more than two years of extensive work by UCS to overhaul its total operation.

This sweeping change in the UCS structure was recommended in the highly publicized, in-depth study of UCS conducted by Greenleigh Associates, the nationally well-known New York-based study firm, to enable broader citizen involvement in social planning and community action.

Greenleigh's findings pointed the way for the development of a planning body of citizens which would reflect a cross-section of the metropolitan Detroit area's 4.5 million residents from various social, ethnic,

Heart ailments cost American workers more than $830 million a year, says the Michigan Heart Association.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

There shall be a Public Hearing on December 10, 1970 at 7:00 p.m. at the Waterboard Building, 36515 Bibbins, Romulus, Michigan.

PURPOSE: To hear any objections to the vacation and discontinuance of the North-South alley between Middlebelt Road and Hyde Park Avenue, South of Lorman Avenue (Between lots 63-83 inclusive and 84-87 inclusive of Osberg's Airport Estates Subdivision) of the part of the Northwest 1/4 of the southwest 1/4 of Section 13, City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

LEONARD J. FOLMAR, Clerk
City of Romulus

RESOLUTION NO. 70-106

BE IT RESOLVED THAT: The City of Romulus deems it necessary for the health, welfare, comfort and safety of the people of the municipality to propose the vacation and discontinuance of the following described alley which is located in the City of Romulus:

The north-south alley between Middlebelt Road and Hyde Park Avenue, South of Lorman Avenue (between lots 63-83 inclusive and 84-87 inclusive of Osberg's Airport Estates Subdivision) of the part of the Northwest 1/4 of the southwest 1/4 of Section 13, City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: "That an easement for public utility purposes be maintained in the alley."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: "That a meeting of the Council to hear any objections to such vacation and discontinuance will be held on December 10, 1970 at 7:00 p.m. and that notice of such meeting with a copy of the resolution calling it shall be published two successive weeks before the appointed time of the meeting in the Romulus Roman and posted in not less than three places in the alley."

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk of the City of Romulus do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a Resolution adopted by the Romulus City Council at their regular meeting on the 24th day of November, 1970.

LEONARD J. FOLMAR, Clerk

Theater commutes to Art Institute for second year

For the second season in a row, Meadow Brook is commuting to Detroit for performances at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Opening at the Institute Theatre tonight will be the Meadow Brook production of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer-prize winning classic comedy, "The Skin of Our Teeth," starring Barbara Quinn and Harry Ellerbe.

Dinner, theatre offered

A complete dinner-theatre package is now offered by the St. Regis Hotel and Meadow Brook Theatre Downtown.

The new St. Regis, located in the New Center area of Detroit next to the Fisher Building, offers dining starting at 6 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, 7 on Saturday and 5 on Sunday in time to catch the curtain at the Art Institute auditorium during the seven downtown performances of the professional group.

Entire cost for the evening, dinner and reserved seats, is $25 per couple. Special groups up to 60 people can also be accommodated. Telephone the Art Institute, 832-2730.

Performances will run through Sunday.

Last season, at the invitation of the Institute's Theater Arts Director, Dr. Audley Grossman, Meadow Brook began its monthly-visits to the downtown area.

Hailed by critics and civic leaders, the Institute performances have been called "a fantastic success" by Meadow Brook Managing Director Frank Bollinger.

"We never dreamed it would work out so well," said Bollinger. "The public in Detroit is positively famished for serious, professional theatre and they have responded with enormous enthusiasm."

Bollinger said that this season's visits to the Institute Theatre will follow a similar pattern to last years.

"We will bring each of our eight productions to the Art Institute the last week of each monthly run."

We're all excited about these downtown performances for the actors, it's a whole new audience and for the rest of us it's a chance to bring to Detroit the quality theatre we've been working to develop at Meadow Brook.

Ticket information and information on dinner-theatre packages at the Institute and the St. Regis Hotel is available by calling the Institute Box Office at 832-2730.

SCROOGE — Bob Cratchit (David Collings) holds his son, Tiny Tim (Richard Collings) in a scene from the new musical, "Scrooge", an adaption of Charles Dickens' classic, "A Christmas Carol." The musical is on view now at several theaters in the metropolitan Detroit area.

With 'Skin of Our Teeth'

Meadow Brook still in the ball park

Meadow Brook Theatre, in association with the Detroit City Theatre Association, presents "The Skin of Our Teeth," a comedy in three acts by Thornton Wilder, directed by Terence Kilburn, scenery and lighting by Richard Davis, costumes by Veronica Gustaff. At the Detroit Institute of Arts through Sunday with the following cast: Glynis Bell, Diane Bugas, Harry Ellerbe, Robert England, DeJoy Glenn, Richmond F. Johnson, Philip Mallet, Angel Menzie, John B. O'Reilly Jr., Elisabeth Orion, Barbara Quinn, Donna M. Ryan, Andrea Stonorov, Michael Tolaydo.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

It's about as sensible to judge a new drama group on the basis of its opening production as it is to judge the Lions on their first month's effort or the Pistons on their first dozen games—and as hazardous.

Meadow Brook Theatre, which opened its season with a revival of Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," is by no means a new group but, since the departure of John Fernald, it's a whole new ball game for them, so commentary on the new status of the company will be necessary.

Although definitive word should be postponed until the new artistic director, Terence Kilburn, gets one season under his belt, some preliminary evaluations are possible.

First, a season which includes the likes of "Life with Father," "A Thousand Clowns" and "The Fantasticks" is a rapid descent to strictly commercial theater from the lofty heights of Shakespeare and Shaw, Chekhov and Ibsen that Fernald played around with. But the storm warnings have been up for months about Meadow Brook's budget and Kilburn may be a realist.

A company which includes Harry Ellerbe and Elisabeth Orion is a long way from community theatrics, but this year's company lacks the depth of previous companies, where the smallest walk-ons were cast with the discrimination of the leads. The major roles in the Wilder work are in capable hands but the minor are in the hands of students this year.

Actually, the Kilburn regime began with last year's closing production of "Ah, Wilderness." Fernald had taken the main portion of the company to New York for its disastrous Chekhov staging while Kilburn fleshed out the remnants of the company with new faces like Ellerbe and students from Meadow Brook's Academy of Dramatic Art for the O'Neill effort.

Several of the faces introduced then, like Ellerbe, Phillip Mallet, and Richmond Johnson, form the nucleus of this year's group—some, like Johnson, only a year removed from student status—augmented by a few old faces like Miss Orion and fleshed out by current Academy students. The Days of Eric Berry would seem to be gone forever.

"Skin of Our Teeth," Wilder's delightful commentary on man's ability to survive everything man and nature can throw at him, starts out in thoroughly flamboyant fashion, full of the heartiness one sometimes finds substituting for depth in community production.

But, by the post-war scenes in act three, it achieves a maturity beyond the average amateur staging.

Thanksgiving fun set at Greenfield Village

Thanksgiving weekend fun awaits the whole family at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum. Their vast collections of Americana vividly recall the days of the first Thanksgiving and the 300 years of our heritage since.

At the Plympton House, built in Sudbury, Mass. in about 1640, visitors can see the type of house in which some of the earliest colonists lived.

In this simple, one-room structure, life centered around the huge hearth which furnished both heat and light for the pioneer family and served as stove and oven for cooking. It was in just such a home that the first Thanksgiving meals were served.

Among the nearly 100 other historic buildings in Greenfield Village, visiting families can trace Thanksgiving and other American traditions down through time.

Shops and stores show early commerce, while one-room schoolhouses testify to the determination of our forefathers to learn the three Rs. The primitive mills and factories point up the development of the industrial revolution.

In the Henry Ford Museum, exhibits of three centuries of American decorative arts, mechanical arts and crafts illustrate the ingenuity, determination and skill of our forebears.

Families recapturing the past can see the fine china and furniture some early Americans used, the guns they shot their food with, the money they used to transact business, the horse-drawn vehicles they used for transportation and the toys their children played with.

In this world-famous panorama of American history the traditions and spirit of Thanksgiving truly comes alive amidst the artifacts of the past.

In keeping with the family spirit of the weekend, the Museum is also presenting a holiday entertainment for young and old alike in the Theater. A smash, bang fantasy adventure film, "The Return of Captain Marvel," is sure to delight the children and raise a bit of nostalgia in their parents.

Based on the popular comic strip, this feature-length movie made from the original 12-part 1942 serial is considered a classic of its type.

Tom Tyler, the cowboy star from silent films, played Captain Marvel with agile gusto. With the assistance of ingenious camera techniques and innovative special effects he performed all of Marvel's feats of superhuman strength and power.

This special holiday fare will be shown Friday and Saturday Nov. 27 and 28 at 1 and 3 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 29 at 2 and 4 p.m. There is no additional charge beyond the regular Museum admission of $2 for adults and $1 for children six through 14.

Christmas movie in area

A fairy tale with a Christmas twist, "Santa and the Three Bears," will be seen at matinees in the area, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 28 and 29.

The film, a combination of liveaction and animation, is about a forest ranger from Yellowstone National Park, who tells his nieces and nephews about Santa Claus and the Three Bears.

The live production was directed by Barry Mahon and animation by former Walt Disney employee Tony Benedict.

Locally "Santa and the Three Bears" will be seen at the Fairlane, Livonia Cinema and Mai Kai.

The Homecoming opens tomorrow

What happens when a professor in an American University brings his wife home to meet a raffish, bawdy family in London, is the subject of "The Homecoming", the prize-winning play by Harold Pinter that will be presented at the Essex Hall Theatre, University of Windsor, Nov. 26 to 29 and Dec. 3 to 6 at 8:30 p.m.

First presented in London in 1965 with notable success by the Royal Shakespeare Company, "The Homecoming" created a controversial stir when it opened in New York early in 1967.

The candor of its lusty language, the insidiously suggestive sexuality of its characters, and its reversal of all accepted moral standards, proved to be shocking to some audiences, stimulating frank to others, and horrifying to all.

The cast for "The Homecoming" includes B. Nathaniel Atkins, Paul Aspland, William Robinson, David Bunyan, Gerald S. Horgan and Sharon James Scott.

"The Homecoming" plays for two consecutive weekends Nov. 26-29 and Dec. 3-6, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Phone orders are accepted at 253-4565. Tickets $2.

MISS AUTO SHOW - A pretty young Hawaiian girl has been selected as Miss Detroit Auto Show this year to highlight the fact that a free trip for two to Hawaii will be given away every day of the show. She is Jeanne Kimiko Shin, 22, a native of Honolulu who attended the University of Hawaii before becoming an American Airlines stewardess. The Detroit Auto Show opened in Cobo Hall, Saturday, and runs through Sunday the 29th. In addition to the nine free trips to Hawaii, visitors have an opportunity to win a trip around the world and a $25,000 motor home.

REV. KENNETH OUELETTE

Special services planned at church

Evangelist Rev. Kenneth Ouelette of Greenville, S.C., will conduct special services Nov. 29 through Dec. 6, at the Berean Baptist Church, 6889 Belleville Rd., Pastor H. Franklin Miller, announced.

The services will start at 7 p.m. each evening including Saturday. Sunday morning services will be 11 a.m. Nursery service will be provided at each service.

Rev. Ouelette was graduated from Bob Jones University of Greenville in 1953. Following graduation, he spent a year in Washington, D.C. as chaplain of the Central Union Mission.

On Jan. 1, 1955, he became pastor of the Perry Baptist Church of Perry, Mich. During the four years of his ministry there, the church experienced considerable growth and a new building was nearly completed by January 1, 1959 when he left to become superintendent of the Detroit City Rescue Mission.

During the nine years he served the mission, a new building was completed (January, 1963).

Among other activities, he conducted a daily radio ministry over WBFG-FM and carried on a busy schedule of pulpit supply and revival campaign in Churches throughout Detroit and the State of Michigan.

The Federal Child Labor Law prohibits the employment of youth under 16 in dangerous farm jobs, such as operating most power-driven equipment, handling or applying insecticides and other chemicals, or using blasting agents.

Parish builds church

The new Bethany Apostolic Church of Romulus is a perfect example of self-determination, it was disclosed Monday.

The church, located in the Wayne-Beverly Urban Renewal Area at Second and Beverly, replaces an older church structure that was ruled sub-standard.

Pastor Austin reported that when the congregation learned that their church which had served the community for so many years was sub-standard and could not remain, they immediately set out upon a positive course of action.

Church officials and members of the congregation were determined to build another church. Money was raised by building fund drives and, after two years of struggle, enough money was raised to begin actual construction.

Construction costs were reduced by many of the church members doing much of the work.

"The church stands as a living monument to self-determination," Pastor Austin stated.

Diabetes tests set

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be given from 4 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 3, at the Hannan Rd. Elementary School in New Boston.

The project is sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association (MDA).

Persons planning to be tested should have a meal rich in sugars and starches two hours prior to their tests to insure the most accurate results.

Beverly School parents see demonstration

Parents at Beverly Elementary School in Romulus had a unique opportunity to witness a demonstration of an advanced mathematics program being offered to fifth graders, school principal Terrel M. LeCesne reported.

The demonstration by fifth grade pupils was conducted by Warren Leffler of "Project Seed", the sponsors of the program, and Robert Parr, the fifth grade teacher, at the school's regular PTA meeting held last Wednesday.

"Project Seed" is a special math program that originated in California about eight years ago, proved successful there and is being introduced in Michigan and other states.

Wherever it is taught, "Seed" involves the same tough material-abstract-conceptually-oriented high school and college algebra.

Also, the PTA approved the appropriation of $15 per class, a total of $210, for the purchase of indoor games to be used during inclement weather days. A committee was also appointed to plan and organize an after-school recreation program for the school community.

Other projects for the year include the purchase of portraits for the halls and library books.

Students thanked

The parents of a 17-year-old girl who was seriously injured in an automobile accident issued thanks Monday to students of Romulus Senior High School for their financial assistance.

Sue Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, 30750 Beverly Rd., Romulus, was injured in a two-car crash on Ecorse Rd., last September. She is still under medical treatment for her injuries.

The students conducted a car wash on Nov. 14-15 on behalf of Sue, a graduate of Romulus High School.

2 repeat as 'All-Area' selections

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Belleville's Garrade Pettus added another honor to his ever-growing athletic achievements as the 17-year-old junior was selected to the All-Area Football Team.

Pettus, the brightest spot in what was a dismal year for coach Keith Emerson's Tigers, is well on his way of becoming the most productive athlete in the history of the school.

Last year he earned All-Area honors as a trackman; he has lettered twice in basketball and duplicated the feat in football. It is the first appearance on the All-Area football honor roll, selected by the Associated Newspapers in cooperation with the area high school coaches.

Pettus takes up one of the halfback slots, the other three were voted to New Boston Huron's halfback Glenn Dregansky; Garden City East's play-caller Greg Puihes and teammate Bob Kleinbrook.

Kleinbrook and Livonia Franklin's Mike Jinnett, selected for his linebacking acuity, are the only holdovers from last year's mythical team.

Others who were named to the team include ends Perry Gray (Romulus) and Merrill Collins (Wayne Memorial); tackles Gary Lyman (Garden City East) and Jack Gracia (Huron); guards Tim Anderson (Robichaud) and Jim Cook (John Glenn) and center Cass Mulka (Garden City East).

Pettus, by far, was the leading Tiger leading rusher as he piled up 715 yards in his 171 carries which rounds out to 4.3 per try and includes seven touchdowns and a conversion. Though Belleville had a dismal season (the Tigers finished with a 2-7 over-all record), no one can blame Pettus.

Dregansky lifted the Chiefs to their best season (6-3) in over a decade and a half as he broke most of the high school marks. Glenn excelled both on offense as well as defense. He finished with 844 yards, scoring seven touchdowns in the process. He accounted for 53 of his team's points and booted a pair of field goals.

On defense, he was given credit for 77 solo tackles and 44, taking up a defensive tackle spot after playing the backfield.

Not only is Glenn an outstanding athlete, he also is a standout scholastically. He is ranked fifth in his senior class with an A average. The Chiefs, who climbed to fourth place in the Huron Conference, wound up with a 6-3 record after years of dwelling in the cellar of their league.

East's play-caller, Puihes can do almost anything with the ball — pass long and short, run and effectively deceive the defense. He led the Panthers to their first unbeaten season and undisputed ruler of the Mid-Wayne Conference with a 8-0-1 over-all record.

Kleinbrook was the key to East's offensive machine as he scored 12 touchdowns for the season and piled up nearly 900 yards rushing. An All-Area selection for two consecutive years, he has been the impetus of Panther championship in both years as a varsity griddier.

Gray has snared 15 passes for a total of 280 yards which included two touchdowns aeriels and two that went for two-point conversions. A senior, Gray came on strong at the end of the season and aided the Eagles to finish the year with a three-game winning streak.

At the other end stands Collins, considered by Wayne coach Wayne Gorman "as my best player." Also versatile, Collins is just one outstanding competitor who never gives up.

Lyman and Gracia, who never met on the gridiron, were drafted as this year's All-Area tackles. Both played with authority and both have caught the eyes of college scouts. Gracia, who is 214 pounds and 5 foot, 11 was the best blocker on coach Lee Smeltzer's squad and area fans will hear more about him in the college ranks, undoubtedly.

Robichaud's Anderson is as "hard-nosed" a griddier one could find and his partner, Cook, proved to be the key to Glenn's winning season.

Rounding out the offensive unit is Mulka, a center who is a "blue chip" prep that any college would be glad to get its hooks on.

Not only were all 11 selections marked for All-Area honors, but coaches in their respective leagues, picked all for conference recognition as well, proving that they have the caliber that makes top players.

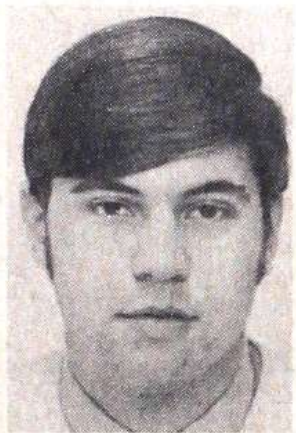

The tigers played before 19 crowds of more than 25,000 at Tiger Stadium in 1970.

A league of fear

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

"A league of fear".

That is what it appears to be — and for that reason apparently Romulus High School is dropping out of the Twin Valley Conference after the current school year.

Students in that league, which is presently composed of River Rouge, Ecorse, Willow Run and Romulus are afraid to attend athletic activities between the league schools, so school officials are seriously considering dissolving the conference.

"Our kids are terrified to go to Ecorse," said Romulus head football coach George Pratt. "Do you realize that we did not sell one ticket to our student body for that game."

"And for the Willow Run game we sold only six pre-game tickets because, again, students just don't want to risk getting intimidated or worse, getting hurt, by attending one of the games."

And because of the turmoil, Romulus has decided to drop out, to play an independent schedule next year until it can find a league compatible to its athletic needs.

But that too may be difficult.

There are very few schools who are of equal strength. The logical league for Romulus is the Mid-Wayne where there is an equal balance of both races. (Romulus is about 60 percent white and 40 black). The Mid-Wayne has recently completed expansion plans and will become a seven school league with Wayne Memorial and Dearborn Heights Annapolis joining hands with the older league affiliates as Garden City East, Inkster, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Taylor Center and Lutheran West.

And it's doubtful that Wayne Memorial would want Romulus in the same league. The two were involved in a rock-throwing incident after a basketball game last year in Romulus.

Romulus is looking to Saginaw for football and the tri-citys are just too powerful for the Eagles.

There are problems but many refuse to admit it. The problems — and they are of a racial nature — must be resolved by the student bodies themselves. If they can't resolve them — then, believe me — the teachers, school officials, police departments cannot. — Students know who the trouble makers are and they will have to learn to do their own police work. If not, as one athletic director told me last year, "In a few years there just won't be any competitive high school sports because all of us are afraid to intermingle."

Some time ago (a pretty long time ago at that) I remember what another writer wrote about "Fear". It goes something like this:

"The thing that numbs the heart is this:

That men cannot devise

Some scheme of life to banish fear

That lurks in most men's eyes."

The author of the above is James Norman Hall.

The Coach is Always Right

Sometimes it's best to listen to your coach, just ask Ohio State play caller, Rex Kern, he'll tell you.

I would have given almost anything to have been in the Ohio State lockerroom during halftime after Kern refused to heed the old pro's warning to go for the field goal instead of trying to get on the scoreboard in the last 22 seconds of the initial half.

You remember the situation don't you?

Ohio State had grabbed a shaky 10-3 lead. With less than a minute to go Stan White had pounced on a fumble by Michigan's Billy Taylor at the Wolverine 46 and the Buckeyes appeared ready to tuck the game away in the first half.

Kern got the champs to the 20 yard line and with 22 seconds to go felt he had time for a couple of plays but coach Woody Hayes wanted to get on the scoreboard to take a comfortable 13-3 into the lockerroom.

The ole owl sent in his place-kicker, Fred Schram. But no sooner did Schram scamper into the game than Kern rushed to the sidelines and implored the Buckeye coach to go for six.

Kern must have had a pretty convincing argument because no one that I've ever known—not even Mrs. Hayes—has been

Defense has hard core

Forge together the talents of two championship teams, add to it more of the best defensive specialists who pride themselves of cutting down ball carriers and quarterback backs and you have the 1970 All-Area Defensive Team.

The best of two championship squads — Wayne Memorial, which captured the Sauk Trail Conference title, and Garden City East, the victor of the Mid-Wayne crown went into the making of the mythical defensive unit.

Representing Wayne Memorial is Phil McKinnon (end), Dennis Kesik (end) of Garden City East is at the other end of the line. Also present are Mike Csaszar (Romulus) and Martin Banks (John Glenn) at tackles, while Garden City West's John Maggioncalda was drafted for the middle guard slot.

Linebacking the team are Mike Jinnett, of Livonia Franklin, Virgil Kirila of Cherry Hill and Lee Ballard of Romulus. In the secondary are Belleville's Tony Ogletree and Dan Smith who team up with Glenn's Slanaker.

McKinnon, a fullback who was considered the "Zebras best all-round ball player," sparked Wayne to an unprecedented 7-2 season including a share of the Sauk Trail's final championship and to a victory over Ypsilanti, then rated third best in the state.

Kesik appeared to always be at the right spot at the right time as he nabbed six fumbles, while keeping his foes from running his end. He helped the Panthers to a perfect 5-0 Mid-Wayne record 8-0-1 over-all mark.

One of the reasons for the tarnished East record is

Enterprise-Roman Sports

Wednesday, November 25, 1970 Page 10

Maggioncalda whose stellar defensive performance against his city rivals led to a 14-all deadlock.

Though Belleville had a losing season, few could blame the defense or the defensive secondary which was led by Ogletree and Smith.

They blanketed the secondary, preventing foes from moving by air. Ogletree, one of two juniors on the team, will be back to haunt Belleville rivals next season.

The other junior, Glenn's Slanaker accounted for five interceptions in pacing the Rockets to a 5-4 season.

Ballard and Csaszar have fine moves and speed and helped pick up the slugging Eagles in the latter part of the season.

Franklin's Jinnett, the only member of the defensive squad to repeat, led the Patriots in unassisted tackles, aiding coach George Lovich's team to bounce back from two defeats to finish the season with a 6-2 record.

Gorman, Humphrey share Coach of Year

By DANN BARKUME

Wayne Gorman from Wayne Memorial High School and Gary Humphrey from Garden City East High School have been named co-winners of the coach of the year award by the Daily Eagle for the 1970 high school football season.

Gorman, in his second year at Wayne Memorial, guided the Zebras to their best year in recent history with a 7-2 over-all record and a share of the Sauk Trail Conference championship. Up until the Gorman era, Wayne had not even scored a touchdown in conference play for over four years. They share the title with Ypsilanti and Edsel Ford.

Gorman said that the biggest problem he faced in 1969 when he took over the job was the fact that he and his coaching staff had to make the players and the fans believe that they could win football games. "We had to instill pride in our football players, make them believe they could win football games," Gorman said.

Wayne had made a poor league showing for six or seven years before Gorman took over. They came alive this year to become one of the premier football powers in the area and should be a contender next year when they transfer over to the Mid-Wayne Conference.

Gorman attended the University of Missouri from 1958 until 1961 and played in the Orange Bowl in 1960 and again in 1961.

His coaching experience includes three years at St. Patrick's of Wayndotte, beginning in 1963 and at Aquinas in Southgate from 1966 until 1968 before moving to Wayne Memorial in 1969.

Gorman is married and is the father of three children.

Gary Humphrey just completed his fifth year as head coach at East and guided the Panthers to an impressive 8-0-1 record and an undisputed title in the Mid-Wayne Conference.

able to sway the Ohio State mentor once he's made up his mind. Kern won, however. And he got to run his play. And he got as far as the 22. The Buckeye signal caller tried to mobilize his teammates after failing...but time ran out on him and his teammates.

Can you visualize the tension in that lockerroom during the half?

There stands Woody--in his short sleeves and thermal underwear--his fist clenched, waiting for a year to beat his former student, Bo Schembechler, to get revenge for what the Wolverines did to him a year ago at Ann Arbor and now this upstart kid tells him to go for six and he listens.

And there sits Kern sitting with his head in his hands, unable to look his coach in the eyes...wanting to speak, but daring not to...One time in his lifetime that he wished he had kept his mouth shut.

No wonder the Buckeye quarterback wasn't any use to his team in the third quarter. It took him all of that time to snap out of his frustrations and by then the Wolverines had gotten on the scoreboard and made it a 10-9 ball game.

Right or wrong, the coach is always right.

The rest, of course, is history. The Buckeyes did recover their poise long enough to score 10 points in the final stanza to win a 20-9 decision to claim the Big Ten championship outright and the right to play in the Rose Bowl.

Belleville High offers data processing course

In an effort to keep pace with the changing times, the business department of Van Buren Public School District is offering a one-semester course in data processing.

most people have regarding the computer.

The class starts with the development of the computer concept. The course goes on to describe the various types of equipment available, the computer systems and procedures used, and the role data processing has in modern business enterprises.

The course is designed to introduce students into the world of computers and hopefully removed the fear

The potential of computers in business, education, science and many other areas is becoming more apparent to those individuals in the field.

The need for qualified personnel in data processing is increasing daily. Almost 50 percent of the job vacancies available today have something to do with the computer.

The class is being taught by Richard Powell along with the assistance of his student teacher from the University of Michigan, Richard Henz. They are handicapped in their efforts due to the absence of the basic equipment.

Several field trips have been planned to give the students a first-hand view of different systems in operation. So far, the class has visited the data center at Eastern Michigan University and the Burroughs corporation's main offices in Detroit.

The final field trip will be taken to Detroit Diesel to observe the inventory control system they have set up to control their operations. The field trip is being held in conjunction with the final class project, that of setting up an inventory control system for the High School's supplies and equipment.

Cubs plan sale of first aid kits

Cub Scout Pack 793 of St. Anthony's Catholic Parish is sponsoring a First Aid Kit Sale, it was announced.

Proceeds of the sale will assist in the financing of future outings for the pack. The First Aid Kits are $2 and they not only include the usual first aid material but road flares and markers as well.

The pack also announced that its membership will support the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce by participating in its annual Christmas Parade on Dec. 5. A collection was taken up by the pack and will be sent to Mrs. Ed Compau of Milan, mother of eight children. Mr. Compau, who passed away recently, devoted many years the pack's leaders' training sessions and the Round Table for the Huron District Scout Council.

The Cub Scouts also agreed to use pack meeting time in December for caroling.

The Annual Chuck Wagon Stew Dinner will be held on Jan. 17. A list of donations for the annual event will be available at the December meeting. Cubmaster Ed Lauth announced.

Two new Den Mothers were announced by the pack. They are Mrs. Pat Lorbeska and Mrs. Mary MacDougall. Winners of the Halloween costumes were Mike Devine as an apartment building, Jim Lentz as a hobo, and Alan Hardy as "Charlie Brown."

Bobcat pins were awarded to the following:

Doug Fras, Scott Harsch, Frank Januszky, Brett Lawson, Dennis Lorbeska, Floyd MacDougall, John

Visingardi, and Ricky Marion.

Other awards were as follows:

Kevin Megaree, Wolf badge; Alan Hardy, Wolf badge; one gold arrow and two silver arrows; Joseph Monforton, two silver arrows under Wolf; Doug Freze, Denner bars; Shawn Lawson, assistant denner; David Mickus, Wolf badge and gold arrow; Eugene Copley, Wolf badge, one gold arrow and four silver arrows; and William Jensen, Wolf badge, one gold arrow and one silver arrow.

David Creith, Scott Harsch and Peter Winnie were all graduated up to Webelos where David had already earned his pin for Scientist, and Scott his pins for Athlete and Engineer. Peter earned another silver arrow under Wolf before stepping up.

Other awards for Webelos were as follows:

James Lentz, Artist and Scientist, Geologist, Outdoors, Traveler and Engineer; Robert Dillon, Artist and Engineer; Mark Innes, Outdoorsman and Aquanaut; Brian Clark, Outdoorsman, Sportsman, Citizen, Scientist and Scholar, and Mark Lauth, Engineer.

Chris Liedel, Outdoorsman, Showman, Aquanaut, Sportsman, Engineer, and Traveler; Joseph Meggeri, Scientist, and Robert Morris, Outdoorsman and Traveler.

Coaches honored

The only blot on East's attempt at a perfect record was a 14-14 tie with cross town rival Garden City West in the final game of the season.

Humphrey's philosophy is to try to get the most out of his players. "I treat them the way they would like to be treated. We work hard and spend a lot of time on football," he said.

Humphrey, a physical education teacher at East graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1958 and coached football in Germany for two years while he was in service.

He came to the Garden City school system 10 years ago and coached junior varsity and junior high school football before assuming his present duties with the varsity squad. "It's a real honor to be picked," Humphrey said, "and I'm happy to be here at East."

Humphrey is married and is the father of two children.

Turkey Shoot set Sunday

The Romulus Gun Club will hold its annual Turkey Shoot at 1 p.m. Sunday according to club president James C. Stewart.

The shoot will be conducted at the Romulus Sportsman's Club grounds, located at 37950 Wick Rd., 1 1/2 miles west of Wayne Rd.

Registration opens Monday at Belleville High

Registration for the second semester at the Belleville High School Center of the Wayne County Community College will begin on Monday, Nov. 30. Cleon Wright, director of Adult Education for the community college, announced.

Classes for the second semester begin on Jan. 11. The number of students currently attending session of the community college center is 100.

Registration for classes will be held during the hours of 7 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 30 and on the following dates: Dec. 2, 7, 9 and Dec. 14 and 16 and again on Jan. 4, 5 and 6, Wright announced.

2-In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our father and grandfather, Harold
Webster, who passed away
November 22, 1969, 1 year ago today. Gone, dear father, gone forever. How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember. None on earth can take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed. How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness. The world can never fill.

MY BROTHER Jerry is missed so much. Butch Watkins, 34966
Richard Street, Wayne.

3-Cards of Thanks

I WISH TO thank the Sumpter Fire Department for their speed, efficiency and courtesy. Marion Harwick.

WE WISH to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement. The Family of Clifford Sundburg.

WE WISH to express our appreciation to the schoolmates and close friends who on November 14 & 15 had a car wash to raise funds for Sue Dixon, who is in the hospital due to an auto accident.
Thank you again. Mr. & Mrs.
William Dixon.

Chief tells results of winter driving tests

You need traction to go in rain, sleet or snow, Romulus' Chief of Police Jacob J. Koch observed Monday and then he added this comment: "When we want the best possible traction aids for our emergency vehicles and for prevailing conditions, we refer back to tests conducted over the years by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards."

The chief cited findings by the NSC committee that can be helpful to all motorists:

For stopping ability — for stopping on ice, conventional snow tires were found to offer no advantage. Studded snow tires produced a 19 percent improvement; reinforced tire chains a 50 percent improvement over regular tires. On loose snow, however, conventional snow tires were found to be 13 percent better than regular tires; reinforced tire chains were 37 percent better.

For pulling power — for getting started and for keeping moving, tests disclosed that conventional snow tires provided only a small improvement on glare ice 28 percent. Studded tires developed about three times the pull; reinforced tire chains about seven times the pull of regular tires on ice.

On loosely packed snow, conventional snow tires provided half-again as much pull-reinforced tire chains about four times the pull of regular tires.

Chief Koch also pointed out the importance of "cornering" — the ability to maintain steering. Being able to round a curve without having your wheels slide out from under you in a major, slick-road problem.

According to the men who drive the winter test courses, traction aids (snow tires, studs and chains) are of little advantage in maintaining steering unless they're used on all four wheels — on the fronts as well as the rear wheels.

To this warning, the chief added a second admonition: "Regardless of the help provided by these traction aids, in no instance can a driver stop, go or steer nearly as well with regular highway tires on dry pavement."

His suggested solution is to think out every maneuver well in advance so you can slow down, steer or accelerate gently. This is the way to avoid sudden, hasty changes in either speed or direction — sure skid producers.

"It's every driver's responsibility," Chief Koch concluded, "to be aware of the type of driving conditions he will encounter and to equip his car for the best possible traction."

One of Dr. Cooper specialties, aquatic ecology, will be especially important because of Wayne County's location on, and dependence upon, the Great Lakes, Warren said.

In his first day-long meeting with the Planning Commission staff, Dr. Cooper warned that some aspects of our deteriorating environment will reach the crisis state — "the point of no return" — well within the lifetime of the present generation.

He stressed that "good intentions" must be backed by sound research if the trend is to be reversed. He cited pollution of Lake Erie as an example, saying the elimination of phosphates from detergents will not save the dying lake if nitrates are increased.

In fact, he warned, dumping waste materials into waterways, even after the waste has been treated, merely moves the problem of chemical reaction away from the source rather than solving it.

At present, Dr. Cooper said, valuable chemical compounds are disposed of as waste in many of our industrial processes, even through they should be recaptured because they will be needed as raw materials as available supplies become more scarce.

Such factors relate to population expansion and land use decisions and must be weighed carefully in the planning process, Dr. Cooper pointed out.

Ecologist will advise Wayne County planners

In what is believed to be a "first," the Wayne County Planning Commission has retained a prominent ecologist, Dr. William E. Cooper, to advise on the environmental effects of governmental decisions.

Dr. Cooper is an associate professor of zoology at Michigan State University (MSU) and a nationally-known ecologist who has spoken and published widely on the subject.

"The Planning Commission has engaged Dr. Cooper in order to make its recommendations to the County Board of Commissioners and the County Board of Auditors as realistic and far-sighted as possible," said Commission Chairman Gerald E. Warren.

He added, "Dr. Cooper will be advising us on the real effects of how we in the metropolitan area use our natural resources and our environment. Jointly with the Commission, he will explore what these facts mean to long-range planning."

Planning Director, said the 11-member Commission is looking into such questions as the implications to housing if a stable population level is achieved; the question of whether the next generation will be able to maintain required employment levels by emphasizing quality and variety in goods and services instead of quantity, if population growth is not leveled off, whether we can meet the needs for open space, recreation and a clean environment and what would we have to give up in exchange?

Dr. Cooper, 32, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from MSU and Master of Science and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Michigan.

He is among the pioneers in the application of the systems sciences approach to the field of ecology — that is, the use of sciences as diverse as engineering, biology, computer technology, and zoology in answering ecological questions.

The Moto-Ski Grand Prix is just a little more refined than other Moto-Skis.
On top of all the great features it shares with them,
the Grand Prix has a track of rubberized steel cleats,
with a one year warranty, a speedometer, a tachometer,
a gold metal flake finish, and more safety features than ever before.
You'll appreciate the precision you get in the

MRS. BYRON G. STABNAU

Betzoldts mark 60th anniversary

On Sunday, November 8, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Betzoldt of 24819 Northline Road, Taylor (former long-time residents of Northline Road, Romulus) celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary by enjoying a family dinner at Bill Knapp's Ann Arbor.

The couple was married November 16, 1910, at Christ Church in Detroit. They moved to Romulus in 1918, where they lived until moving to Taylor three years ago. They have two children, Raymond of Macon, Michigan and Mildred (Mrs. Al Neibauer) of Wayne. There are also seven grandchildren.

Small family shopping is difficult

It's often easier to shop and cook for a family of four or six than for a household of just one or two, contends a Michigan State University consumer marketing information agent.

"Family size packages are just too large for singles or twosomes," says Sheila Morley. "Frozen foods are virtually impossible to divide into smaller units and most meat cuts are too big."

Best advice for senior citizens, bachelors, newlyweds and other small households is to buy dried food products such as dry milk, coffee cream, soup mixes and potato flakes.

"The amount needed for a meal or two can be measured off the rest stored for several weeks or months in a cupboard," Mrs. Morley explains.

Individual servings of main dishes found in many frozen food cases, and the small one and two size cans of fruits and vegetables are other choices suited to smaller family needs.

Breakfast loss

It is estimated that 50 percent of the American population starts the day with a totally inadequate breakfast. By skipping or skimping on this important meal, individuals can miss 25 to 33 percent of their daily allowances of a variety of nutrients.

How To Send In Wedding Or Engagement News

For newly-engaged couples and for prospective brides we have printed forms to fill out to announce your betrothal and to enable us to write your wedding story completely and correctly.

If you have any doubt as to what information we require to do a story, these forms list all the pertinent questions.

To obtain either an engagement or bridal questionnaire, simply stop by our office, 330 Main street, Belleville, or request one via telephone, OX 7-9191. We'll be happy to mail either form.

We ask that you also bring or send in pictures to accompany either story.

There is no charge for this service.

Wed in Virginia

Jamaica trip follows wedding

The home of the bride's parents in Woodford, Va., was the setting for the Friday evening ceremony uniting in marriage Charlotte Mae Allen of Woodford, Va., and Byron Gale Stabnau formerly of Westland.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ferrell Allen of Woodford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Inez Stabnau of Westland, and Gerald E. Stabnau of Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a short bridal gown of frost white crepe designed with a mandarin neckline, long bishop sleeves, and empire waist accented with a woven crepe rope belt.

The bride's tiered, elbow-length veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of Venise lace trimmed with flowers. She carried a lace-covered prayer book with cymbidium orchids attached.

Mrs. Joseph Thomas O'Brien attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a short gown in deep red velvet styled with long sleeves and an empire bodice. Her accessories were in the same shade and she carried a nosegay of red and white carnations. Also in deep red velvet was the flower girl, Susan Lane O'Brien, niece of the bride.

The bridegroom asked Michael W. Chenault of Fredericksburg, Va. to act as best man.

On their return from a honeymoon trip to Jamaica the new Mr. & Mrs. Stabnau will make their home in Fredericksburg, Va.

The former Miss Allen is a graduate of T.C. Smith High School at Ladysmith, Va. and is employed with the FMC Corporation in Fredericksburg. Her bridegroom is a graduate of Garden City High School, and is employed with C.J. Langenfelder and Son, Inc. Washington, D.C.

Holiday Fare ingredients plentiful

Many of the ingredients for a traditional Thanksgiving dinner are included on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Plentiful Foods List for November, points out a consumer marketing information specialist for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension service.

Featured for the month are turkeys and rice, says Saginaw-based agent Sheila Morley. Other foods in plentiful supply include fresh apples, canned applesauce, apple juice, fresh cranberries, cranberry sauce, fresh potatoes, onions, canned fruit cocktail, dry split peas, broiler-fryers, pork and walnuts.

This year's turkey crop is eight percent larger than last year, Mrs. Morley says. The increase is about equally divided between lightweight birds most suitable for families and heavier ones chosen by hotel and restaurant buyers.

The improved supply should mean reasonable prices for holiday turkeys with specials more frequent than usual, says Mrs. Morley.

Dairy product guide

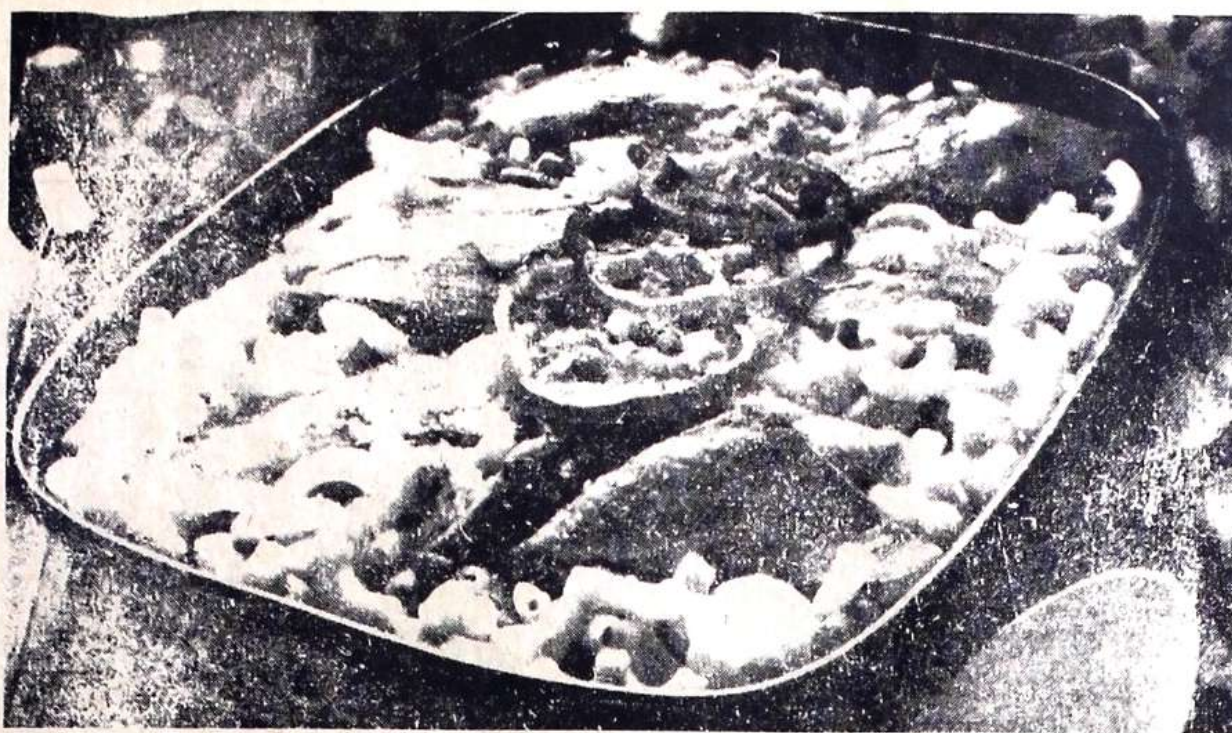

Dairy product names can be valuable guides to product fat content, explains a consumer marketing information agent for the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University.

"For example," says Mrs. Sheila Morley, "if a carton says table or coffee cream or light cream, the fat content is 18 to 20 percent. Whipping cream, however, is 30 percent fat and heavy whipping cream contains 36 percent fat. Half and half has only 10 to 12 percent fat."

As fat content diminishes, so does calorie count, Mrs. Morley says. Whipping cream has three times the calories of half and half.

"Sour" dairy products are actually cultured fresh cream or milk. Sour cream is made from coffee cream (18 to 20 percent fat.) Sour half and half is cultured from half and half (about 10 percent fat).

Yogurt is made from fresh, partially skimmed milk, enriched with additional nonfat dry milk. Plain yogurt is much lower in calories than the flavored varieties, Mrs. Morley says.

SECOND TIME AROUND — Leftovers taste as good (or better) the day after a holiday as in this family-style turkey casserole. Made with fresh dairy products, the dish is economical and utilizes foods generally found on the cupboard shelves or in the refrigerator. That, in itself, adds to the convenience for the homemaker. Being a 'one dish' meal, all you need to add are some hot rolls and a simple dessert.

'David and Lisa' opening Dec. 8

The Belleville High School Senior Class has chosen "David and Lisa" by Isaac Rubin to be presented Tuesday, Dec. 8, Wednesday, Dec. 9, and Saturday, Dec. 12 at the new Belleville High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

"David and Lisa", based on the award-winning movie, tells the strange, appealing and fascinating story of two emotionally disturbed adolescents.

The play is set during a term at Berkley School, where, with the help of psychiatrist Alan Swinford, they overcome part of their problems.

The cast was chosen by the director, Herbert Sawyer, an art teacher at the high school. Ron Parsons will portray David; Kaye Ivan, Lisa; and Roger Gillespie, Dr. Alan Swinford.

Turkey can be nice second time around

To millions of Americans, Thanksgiving dinner means a plump, golden turkey. And even though everyone feasts heartily, there's always some of this magnificent bird left over.

Here's a recipe that will dress up turkey in an almost-better-than-new style. In One Dish Turkey Supper, slices of the holiday bird share ingredient honors with green beans, onion, green pepper and macaroni. The combination is made extra special with the fresh goodness of dairy products: Tangy sour cream, real butter, Cheddar cheese and milk.

Accompany with an easy tossed green salad or crisp relishes. And for dessert, bring out several flavors of ice cream and let everyone make his own sundae.

ONE DISH TURKEY SUPPER

1 package (7 or 8 oz.) elbow macaroni
1 can (15 1/2 oz.) cut green beans, drained
1/4 cup dairy sour cream

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1/2 cup sliced onion
1/4 cup regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 1/2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
12 ounces sliced cooked turkey
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Green pepper rings

Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain and toss with beans and sour cream. Meanwhile, in a 1 1/2-quart saucepan, melted butter saute onion; remove and set aside. Blend flour, Worcestershire sauce, mustard, salt and pepper into remaining butter. Remove from heat; gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add Cheddar cheese; stir until cheese is melted. Turn macaroni into 2-quart buttered shallow baking dish; pour half of cheese mixture over macaroni. Arrange turkey and onion over macaroni; pour over remaining cheese sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Garnish with green pepper. Makes 6-8 servings.

Too many families overeat rich food

The affluent society may become the corpulent society soon — if it doesn't watch out.

During the past 20 years, middle-income families have gotten steadily more obese, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

In January, the U.S. Public Health Service estimated that 10 to 12 per cent of middle-income families — those with annual incomes of $12,000 or more — are overweight to a point that jeopardizes their health and ruins their appearance. Further estimates say that an additional 20 per cent of families in this group are heading toward overweight.

The so-called convenience foods — quick TV tray dinners and pizza snacks, hot dogs, French fries, and the like can take the bows for producing a generation of heavy, listless persons who have the means to plan more balanced diets.

Members of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health recently charged that despite the amount of money spent on food in our country, families are still eating too many wrong things.

A published report said that 37 percent of middle-income families are poorly nourished despite spending upwards of $2,500 or more each year on edibles.

One problem could be the choice of food.

Another could be how the food is prepared.

Take an expensive cut of meat — perhaps a prime-quality steak, properly laced with fat. Although ads show meals built around just such a selection, a steady diet of this type of meat would be too rich in calories for the average person.

There also can be a problem in the cooking of food. Many vegetables are so overcooked that the original vitamins are lost. Some high-protein items, such as calves' liver, when simmered in butter or bacon fat and served with fried onions, become so loaded with calories and cholesterol that it is a less healthy foot item than it should be.

Since middle-income Americans have more means to eat out in restaurants they again face the problem of richly cooked foods. Restaurant menus usually contain some low calorie dishes, if the dinner has the discipline to choose them.

A survey of nutrition experts has produced a six-rule program to end the middle-income obesity problem. Simplified, the rules are:

1. Drink more milk and cut down on fat somewhere else.
2. Eat bread that is enriched with riboflavin and wheat germ.
3. At least twice each month eat liver that is broiled.
4. Avoid fried meats. Broil, boil, or roast all meat, fowl and fish.
5. Eat more raw fruits and green and yellow vegetables but steam-cook the vegetables.
6. Abandon freak diets and crunchy snacks and convenience foods.

Port Huron pair feted at party

A joint celebration marking the birthdays of Otis Huff and Sammie Pen, both of Port Huron, was held recently at the Kirkendoll home on Wear Road, Belleville, with Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Pen as co-hostesses.

Dinner was served to some 25 friends and relatives from Youngstown, Ohio, Port Huron, Wayne, and Belleville. Card games were played and gifts opened.

A pound of cotton can be spun into 70 yards of cloth.

PASS IT ON
by L.M. Boyd

When a top executive gets knocked off his job, he is apt to start horsing around. That is, with some woman. Madam Available. Probably some woman he doesn't care anything about. By "apt to," I mean it happens frequently enough to look like a pattern. The great-hearted board of directors takes a casual vote. And suddenly the old boy in the walnut suite on the top floor finds himself riding the elevator down, stiff as stone and infinitely empty, his lips white, his jaws damp, his eyes frostbitten. Pretty soon, if he falls into the forementioned pattern, he'll phone that felicitous female. And like a patient consigned to hot salt bath, he thus begins the rehabilitation. Fortunately, our Love and War man says the trauma is usually temporary and the recovery swift.

Open question - Where in the Bible, if anywhere, does it state a "few is 'eight'?"

The No. 1 reason dropouts quit classes is they "hate school." The No. 2 reason is they "were flunking." The No. 3 reason is they "got kicked out." Or so say the surveytakers... Already told you some auto insurance companies regard editors as bad risks. Other professionals likewise labeled by such firms include Army officers, beauticians and ministers.

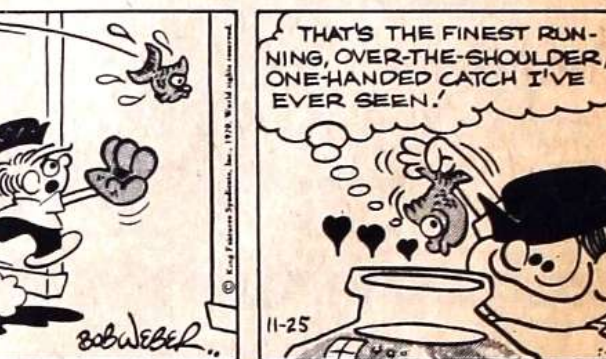

Customer service Q. "What makes some potatoes turn green?" A. Light. It produces something called solanine. If you eat enough of it, you'll go to bed with the miserables. Back during Ireland's potato famine, a lady cook who worked for a wealthy family took home several sacks of leftover potato peelings, all exceedingly green. Boiled down, they killed her husband. That was why the Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet, known as SPUD, campaigned so mightily against potatoes.

A fifth of the Nation's stockholders never bought any stocks, they just inherited them... Elephants get stomachaches when the temperature drops near freezing, did you know that?... Pollsters claim only one college student in five now thinks marijuana is more dangerous than liquor.

Note a department store executive remarks wrathfully he doesn't know how his business can survive, what with so many shoplifters. Don't know either. Big businesses buy up a little businesses, and the population swells. To paraphrase Sir Winston, never before in history have so many swiped so much from so few. This sad practice boosts prices, cost us a lot. At any rate, what it brings to mind is the punishment for petty thievery in old Germany. Such felons were tossed into iron cages, mounted like tops in public places, and passersby were called upon to spin said cages until the prisoners got sick.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in "Pass It On" wherever possible. Please address your letters to L.M. Boyd, P.O. Box 90068, Seattle, Wash. 98199.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S

from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: You are really stirred up now to get things done and your motto now should be "I Produce Results." However, as no one can live in the world by himself, you would be wise to consult with others, instead of being determined you are not going to have anyone else take any of the credit or the benefits.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get an early start on all those responsibilities you have to handle, working with speed and accuracy. See what you can do to make your mate happier. Tone down on the temper.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are tempted to argue with an associate who does not agree with you, but it is better to cooperate, instead. More diplomacy is necessary if you are to keep out of trouble. Think.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Plan your work for the day and don't try to pick an argument with a co-worker. Getting much done should be your aim. Try not to do anything that could be harmful physically, also.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) You are bent on having a good time regardless, but this could cost you a pretty penny in more ways than one, so desist. Use energy for whatever is of a constructive nature. Ponder well some new investment.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you do not stop being so demanding, you find you will turn a molehill of confusion into a mountain today. Get at the bottom of things and then you know how to handle matters quietly and effectively. Show wisdom.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Although there are powerful planetary forces against you today, you can weather any storm and accomplish a good deal just the same. Drive with utmost care and be sure you know what the other fellow is doing. Avoid accidents.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Spending unwisely or arguing with others could prove agonizing just at this time, so think. Make improvements to property in your own original fashion. Show that you have excellent taste.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You feel very powerful today and could get into trouble with others if you do not use tact, caution. Do not doubt others so much. Too much emotionalism with others could hurt you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Analyzing recent happenings will show you the path to greater success in the future. Listen to what an expert has to suggest and follow the best advice. Pigeonhole other ideas given you for future use.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A partner lights into you quite mercilessly today, but this is only because he or she knows you can do better, which you can. Get busy and use energies constructively. Put emotionalism on the shelf for awhile.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show care in speaking with a higher-up or you get into a peck of trouble. Listen to what an associate has to suggest, and follow finest ideas only. Being a patriotic citizen is very important right now.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) In your eagerness to acquire greater knowledge, be careful you do not irritate new friends, acquaintances. Think well before you talk, write letters. Double checking everything is wise also.

If your child is born today...he or she will be one of those delightful young people who has tremendous energy and likes to criticize others, so be sure to teach early to be diplomatic and harness energies wisely, or your progeny could get into wrong company and spoil the otherwise fine promise in this chart. Sports are very valuable here since they teach fair play and tone the body. Some religion is fine, and ethics a must. Discipline should be verbal.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

State safety course slated for area hunters

By PEARL MORRIS
Phone WH-1187

Attention local hunters: The Wayne County Sportsmen's Club is going to conduct the Hunter Safety Course of Michigan on Sunday, Dec. 13, at 12 noon.

The club is located on Inkster Rd. between Pennsylvania and Sibley Rds.

Beginning Sept. 1, 1971 a license to hunt shall not be issued to a person under the age of 17 years unless the applicant has passed a Hunter Safety Course or can show proof of previous hunting experience in the form of a prior hunting license.

Advanced registration is required because the class size is limited. There will be a registration fee. Please contact Virgil L. Varner for further information (phone 697-9688).

Today (Wednesday) is the final day of the "Bazaar" being held in the "C" Building entrance (from Michigan Ave.) of Wayne County

General Hospital, Eloise, Michigan.

The public is cordially invited to attend by Mrs. C.M. Douglas Director of Ancillary Therapies, and the patients. All the artistic and useful items on sale were made by the patients under the supervision of professional therapists. Hours: 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Pancakes, sausages and coffee served all day.

SP-5 Charles Hively, his wife, Thelma, and baby son, Chuckie, are in Romulus on 12 day Thanksgiving Day furlough from Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. He is the son of the Charles J. Hivelys and grandson of Mrs. Charles Hively, all of Wayne Rd.

Four talented local musicians, Bill Crook, bass, Glenn Hayes, oboe, April Forentos, flute, and Carla Hay, pianist, performed at the Sunday morning service at the United Methodist Church on Olive St. The quartet offered special numbers and also played hymns while the congregation sang.

A farewell party honoring Mrs. Julia Kelsey of Vining Rd., was held Tuesday Nov. 17, at the home of Mrs. Frank Youtsey on Wayne Rd.

Attending were the following neighbors and friends: Mrs. Eleanor Morris, Anna Kertez, Helen Greca, Fan Dick, Pearl Wilks, Barbara Greca, Helen Greca, Ann Micik, Chris Popich, Celia Poet, now of Manchester, Michigan; Lila Niemi daughter Brenda; Dorotha Hutchinson, Lillie Chamberlain and Bessie Gramling.

Pot luck lunch and visiting were enjoyed. The ladies presented Mrs. Kelsey with a love offering of money and told her to purchase something for her new home. Mrs. Kelsey has purchased a home at Troy, Michigan.

New Boston woman at Bible seminar

Mrs. Roland Ziegler, 37475 Ash Rd., New Boston Ladies Aid member at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, New Boston, was among the church women who attended the first American Bible Society Women's Activities seminar conducted recently at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, Allen Park.

The theme of the seminar was "Good News Too Good To Keep." The purpose was to inform Christians of the resources of the American Bible Society, inspire them to share the Scriptures in their communities and to participate in the worldwide outreach of the Society.

The American Bible Society, founded in 1816 is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to translate, publish and distribute the Scriptures, without comment, to men everywhere in a language they can read or understand and at a price they can afford.

Fleurette in Vietnam

Pfc. Donald Fluette, of 9339 Cogswell Rd., Romulus, is serving as a helicopter maintenance man at Phuoc Vinh Airfield in Vietnam.

A 1968 graduate of Romulus High School, Pfc. Fleurette entered the service last April.

He took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

After basic, he went on to Ft. Rucker, Ala., where he was trained in helicopter maintenance, graduating third in his class.

Pfc. Fluette left Sept. 12 for Vietnam.

Astral Rebekah Lodge hosts District

The Astral Rebekah Lodge No. 250 of Belleville was host to several Rebekah Lodges of the Southwest Wayne Rebekah District No. Nine recently.

Several dignitaries, including past presidents of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan, present Assembly officers and past and present District officers, were present at the Nov. 12 meeting.

Members were present from Flat Rock, Garden City, Lincoln Park, Dearborn, Wayne, Detroit, Plymouth, Wyandotte and Belleville. In all 99 answered the roll call.

The hall was attractively decorated with baskets of cut flowers, which later were given to several people as bouquets.

The meeting was presided over by Sister Vera Mida, Noble Grand of Astral Lodge. The Warden and Conductor presented the flag. All gave the Pledge of Allegiance and followed by singing the Star Spangled Banner. The Chaplain opened the Bible and gave the Invocation. All joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer and the meeting was declared opened.

The President of the district, Mrs. Lucille Janofski, of Flat Rock, was presented with a gift of money from Astral as their contribution toward the President's project of the year.

Mrs. Janofski in turn, presented Sister Vera, with the President's emblem of the year, a pretty floral arrangement, centered with a huge candle, which represents the symbol of the "candle of service."

Mrs. Mabel Alexander of Detroit gave a few remarks. She congratulated Astral on their fine meeting and wished them success in the future. Mrs. Alexander is a past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan.

Other dignitaries also gave short speeches, all were on the same theme - congratulations.

At the present time, Astral Rebekah Lodge has 75 members and hope to continue to work in, and for the benefit of the community.

One thing members have been doing was sponsoring a Babe Ruth team in Belleville for the past three years. The lodge was fortunate to have sponsored the championship team the past two years.

Following the conclusion of the business meeting, the closing ceremonies were held, the Bible closed and Flag retired.

A delicious buffet lunch followed. Sister Bedia Woods deserves a vote of thanks, for taking over the job of being chairman of the food committee. She in turn, wishes, to thank all who helped in any way.

The next Visitation will be at Collins Lodge in Wayne on Feb. 16, 1971.
